Full Details of the Sensational Shooting of Yesterday.

Judge Henry Passes Through Enroute Home. What he Has to Say.

The Condition of Both the Combatants at Last Accounts.

The all absorbing topic still continues to be the almost tragic encounter between State Auditor Walker and Ex-Supreme Judge Henry, in Jefferson City, yesterday morning, an account of which appeared in last evening's BAZOO. The following statement of the affair, from the BAZOO's special correspondent, which arrived too late for yesterday evening's paper, is according to the best obtainable information, as correct as it is possible to obtain.

THE SHOOTING.

JEFFERSON CITY, April 26.

An unfortunate difficulty has just occurred between Auditor John Walker and Ex-Supreme Judge Jno W. Henry. The facts, as detailed to your correspondent by an eye witness, are as follows: Walker, in going from the supreme court building toward the Madison hotel, met Henry, who was coming towards the building, near the residence of one Dr. Church Brooks. The parties have not spoken for some time, and Henry, who is quite lame and walks with a cane, sought to pass around Walker in silence, as is their wont when meeting. Walker, however, intercepted Henry and began to abuse him. Henry replied that he had said nothing about Walker that he did not believe to be true, and he desired nothing to do with him. Walker continued by saying that Henry was a d--d contemptible liar, whereupon Henry struck him with his cane and Walker and shot Henry through the breast. The ball first inflicted a flesh wound along the inside of the left arm, entered the left breast a little above and inside the left nipple and passed inwards towards the right nipple. The physicians, in attendance upon Henry, pronounce his wound serious, but from their present examination not necessarily fatal. They have probed for but cannot find the ball. Walker's wound was slight and amounted to nothing. He is a very large and powerful man, while Henry is below the medium size and is of quite slight build. Henry was almost disabled at the time of the difficulty on account of injuries received by him several days ago while alighting from a street car in St. Louis. At that time he slipped and fell on one of his hips which rendered him quite lame. It is thought since the difficulty that, this morning and hunted Henry up purposely to provoke a quarrel for the purpose of shooting him. It was generally known, in town, that Henry was here this morning to argue the Ellison-Higbee election case before the Supreme court, and a few minutes before court convened Walker was seen to walk into the court room where a number of lawyers were congregated, look carefully over the crowd as if seeking for some one and walked out without speaking to any one although he was nodded to by several gentlemen who saw him enter. The ill feeling between these two gentlemen grows out of the fact that Henry is said to have expressed himself pretty freely in regard to the charges preferred against Walker during the last session of the legislature and a report of these remarks having come to Walker's ears. THE GENTLEMEN HAVE NOT SPOKEN when they passed by since the charges and Henry's remarks thereto became public. All parties, whether friends of one or the other of the gentlemen, seem surprised that a man like Walker should carry arms. His enemies, of course, claiming that he has become desperate on account of the damaging nature of the legislative investigation had in his case last winter, and deeming it beneath him to notice personally, the two chief instruments that were most active in performing charges against him, he determined to single Henry out on account of his prominence and his having expressed himself so freely and injured him seriously.

WALKER ARMED HIMSELF.

Henry is known by his acquaintances to be a nervous, excitable man. Often imprudent in his expressions and actions, but quick to forgive an injury and not prone to harbor malice or desire revenge. This, as before said, is a most unfortunate affair, and it is to be hoped that this is the end of it.

JUDGE HENRY'S STATEMENT.

On the arrival of the train from the east Judge Henry was placed on board a sleeper by his friends and immediately started home, accompanied by Mrs. Abe Furst, of St. Joseph. When the train reached Sedalia a BAZOO representative and several of the Judge's friends, including ex-State Treasurer, Phil E. Chappell, entered the compartment where Judge Henry lay. On seeing Mr. Chappell the Judge smiled and extending his hand replied to the anxious inquiry "How do you feel?" "Oh, as well as could be expected under the circumstances, after my encounter with your friend." He stated that he suffered little pain except in his breast which hurt him somewhat when he drew a long breath, but he thought he would get along all right when he got home.

THE BALL FROM THE PISTOL.

entered the judge's arm at the wrist, which is considerably powder burned, and passing upward came out of the fleshy part of the arm near the elbow, and thence entered the left breast near the nipple and passed in a glancing direction across the breast toward the left nipple. The physicians yesterday failed to locate it, but the judge said another effort to do so would be made to-day.

In speaking of the difficulty the judge said that Auditor Walker met him on the street and accused him of defaming him. The judge replied that he had not done so, and Mr. Walker continued to reiterate his statements and talk about friendship. "I at last replied to him," said the judge, "that I had never said anything concerning him but the truth, so far as friendship was concerned we had not been friends for years, and that while I had no desire to injure him, I wanted nothing to do with him and desired no fuss, at this Mr. Walker called me a scoundrel and an infamous liar and reached for his pistol.

I THEN STRUCK HIM

with my cane and he shot me. Just how I could not say; whether it was deliberately or by accident, as he drew his pistol, but you can see on my arm where the powder burned me."

"Is it true that Mr. Walker is in a serious condition?"

"My physician told me that he was suffering from a partial paralysis as the result of the stroke of my cane, but that it was only temporary and he was in no danger."

The Judge seemed cheerful throughout and seemed to think that Mr. Walker had not acted friendly by him as he said:

"Mr. Walker is a man who weighs about 225 pounds, and is large and powerfully built, and I do not think it becomes him to hunt up a man of my dimensions armed with a revolver, and pick a fuss with him and use the revolver, and especially when he carried a cane as he did when he attacked me. But," remarked the Judge sotto voce, "if I had got another lick at him he would never have shot me."

An Icy Runaway Which Ends Among Gravestones.

A fine team of horses attached to the delivery wagon of the Union Ice Company becoming restless this morning a little before 8 o'clock while standing in front of a customer's on Ohio street, near the court house, started off on a little expedition of their own. The driver, who was not on the wagon, attempted to stop the team by grasping the bits of a spirited mare which was the lead animal, but was unable to do so. The horses galloped down Ohio street, spilling out ice all along the way, until about the telegraph office, where the supply becoming exhausted, the spring seat was cast overboard.

At Main street a lot of individuals threw up their hands and said, "whoa," in a loud tone of voice, but the horses proceeded as usual. They crossed the railroad tracks, and came perilously near to colliding with a big telegraph pole at the corner of the depot park, then swerved to the left and dashing through the picket fence in front of Clay & Heyner's marble yard, came to a sudden and inglorious halt, right in the midst of a collection of granite gravestones and marble monuments.

No great damage was done to the horses or wagon, but several stones in the marble yard were more or less chipped and bruised, the damage being possibly not less than $50, in these respects.

The Colorado.

A gentleman who came up from Cole Camp this morning stated, to a BAZOO scribe that the Colorado road people had ordered work to begin at that place on the construction of the road, May 1st, and that they had purchased all the ties in that place.

WEDNESDAY'S WEDDINGS.

Miss Florence A. Hager and Mr. Charles P. Rockwell Married This Morning.

The wedding of Miss Florence A. Hager and Mr. Charles P. Rockwell took place this morning at the Cumberland Presbyterian church corner of Seventh and Osage streets at 10:30 o'clock. Miss Hager is the only daughter and child of Mr. A. M. Hager, formerly division superintendent of the Missouri Pacific railway at present superintendent of the elevated railway Kansas City and is young lady of accomplishments intelligence and worth. Mr. Rockwell is a son of Ex-Roadmaster Peter Rockwell and is a young and promising business man of many excellent qualities. Both Miss Hager and Mr. Rockwell are popular members of society circles and have friends throughout central Missouri. The church was very prettily decorated with flowers, and potted plants and ivy was draped over the altar and chancel. The bridal couple with their attendants, Miss Sue Evans and Mr. Will Woods, entered the church to the music of a wedding march performed by Prof. J. M. Chance, and after taking their places the ceremony was beautifully and solemnly pronounced by Rev. A. H. Stephens, pastor of the church. The ushers were Messrs. Kehoe, H. R. Scott, E. Lamy and W. Courtney. The bride looked exceedingly handsome in a dress of fawn colored camel's hair, richly combined with panels and faced draperies of sage and moss green velvet; the hat was a rolled brim fawn colored straw with crown of sage and moss green velvet and the trimmings held in place with amber pins. The gloves and wrap were in harmony with the rest of the costume and the whole suit was quietly effective.

Miss Evans wore Mikado browu Havanese richly and beautifully combined with plush of a darker shade, hat and gloves harmonizing.

The groom and his assistant and the ushers were handsome in morning wedding suits.

There was no reception, but directly after the ceremony the bridal party were accompanied to the depot by a large party of friends and where Mr. and Mrs. Rockwell embarked for a wedding tour to Chicago, Bloomington, Ill., and other points not yet definitely determined upon. After an absence of about two weeks they will return and occupy beautifully fitted rooms at the residence of the groom's father, No. 421 Fifth street. The list of presents received was large and contained many beautiful and costly articles, but by special request will not be published. Among the large number of invited guests were Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hatch, Topeka; Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Kent, St. Louis; Miss Lizzie Garriott, St. Louis; Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Nance, Dr. and Mrs. Jackson, Kansas City; A. A. Talmage, St. Louis; S. Hayward, Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Hardesty, St. Louis; Dr. Runcie, Mrs. Cundiff, St. Joseph, Mo.; J. R. Barrett and family, Miss Minnie Barrett, Miss Eva Johnson, Miss Madge Sturgis, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Allen, Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Berry, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Bothwell, Miss Josie Wright, W. E. Bard, Mr. and Mrs. G. T. Brown, Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Clarke, Mr. and Mrs. D. Blair, S. K. Bullard, Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Blythe, Mrs. C. E. Leonard, Miss Minnie Chappell, Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Dalby, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Demuth, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Deutsch, Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Fellows, B. H. Ingram and family, Geo. Faulhaber and family, Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Fleischmann, Gilmer Gilbreath, Mr. and Mrs. Dan Grow, Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Hoffman, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Houston, Mr. and Mrs. Adam, Little, Misses Lampton, Arthur Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Chris. Hye, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Quarles, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Mahby, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Messerly, Dr. and Mrs. G. R. Scott, Miss Minnie Scott, Miss Ida Newkirk, Rev. and Mrs. J. J. Wilkins, Dr. and Mrs. Wm. Jones, Miss Annetta Jones, Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Smith, Chas. Yeater, Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Shultz, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Roll, James Snedaker, Parsons, Kas., and about one hundred and fifty other in this city, Kansas City, St. Joseph, St. Louis, Dallas, Tex., Boonville, Nevada, Ill., etc. The BAZOO wishes Mr. and Mrs. Rockwell a life of happiness and prosperity.

Clifford-Riley.

Mr. Daniel T. Clifford, of Fort Scott, Kansas, was married this morning at half past six o'clock, at St. Vincent de Paul's church, by Rev. Father Murphy, to Miss Agnes E. Riley, of Sedalia. The bride was attended by Miss Nellie Lafferty, and the groom by his brother, Mr. J. Clifford. When the wedding party entered the church, the bride, supported by the groomsmen, and the groom attended by Miss Lafferty, the organ, under the skillful fingers of Miss Dollie O'Connor, gave forth Mendelssohn's wedding march. Nuptial mass was celebrated by Father Murphy, and after the ceremony, a wedding breakfast was partaken of at the residence of the bride's brother-in-law, Mr. E. D. Cassidy, west Fifth street. The young couple left on the morning train for Fort Scott, their future home.

Last Services.

Major Cole held his last meeting at Springfield Monday night and left for Adrian, Mich., immediately. The Herald, of Tuesday morning has the following concerning his departure, and of the scenes at the 'Frisco depot: "Hundreds of people went to the 'Frisco depot to see Maj. Cole take his departure. While in the waiting room a song was started and participated in by the assembly, and a fervent prayer was offered. The depot responded with the unwonted sounds of song and praise, and many were deeply affected."

The prayers and best wishes of hundreds of people who have been benefited through Maj. Cole's instrumentality follow him, and will attend him in all his future work."

A Two-foot Vein.

A private letter received in Sedalia yesterday, conveys the intelligence that parties sinking a shaft for coal on Blackwater, in the northeast portion of Johnson county, about twenty-five miles west of Sedalia, struck a vein of iron ore two feet thick. The ore was found about seven feet below the surface of the ground. It is thought that the ore will be found in paying quantities when further mining has been made. The coal is of excellent quality in that neighborhood, and said to be inexhaustible quantities.

For the relief and cure of the inflammation and congestion called "a cold in the head" there is more potency in Ely's Cream Balm than in anything else it is possible to prescribe. This preparation has for years past been making a brilliant success as a remedy for cold in the head, catarrh and hay fever. Used in the initial stages of these complaints Cream Balm prevents any serious development of the symptoms, while almost numberless cases are on record of radical cures of chronic catarrh and hay fever after all other modes of treatment have proved of no avail.

Ebey-Sullivan.

The wedding of Miss Joie Sullivan, for some time telegraph operator at the Missouri Pacific railroad hospital, Sedalia, to Mr. W. G. Ebey, train dispatcher at Denison, Texas, took place at 5 o'clock yesterday evening at the residence of the bride's mother, in Pleasant Hill. The attendants were Miss Mamie Sullivan, of Sedalia, a cousin of the bride, and Mr. Daniel Sullivan, also of Sedalia, the bride's brother. The ceremony uniting the handsome couple was conducted by Rev. Father Auxcherie, of Pleasant Hill. It was intended that Miss Maggie Galvin should be bridesmaid for her sister, but this young lady failed to arrive in time, so Miss Sullivan was hastily substituted. The presents were numerous and handsome. Mr. and Mrs. Ebey departed on the 7 o'clock train for their new home in Texas, accompanied by the good wishes of hosts of friends.

CARTER'S CAPERS.

An Operator's Spree Which Led to Very Serious Troubles.

Yesterday's BAZOO made mention of the arrest of one Mike Carter for being drunk, his story to the police that he had been robbed and the subsequent arrest of Mike and John Bulger, charged with the robbery. At the trial last evening the whole story came out, and briefly related is as follows:

Carter has been for some time telegraph operator at Muskogee, Indian territory. He was recently discharged, and came to Sedalia Monday to receive his time check, as he said with the intention of going home to his parents at Larue, Ohio. When he arrived he had some twenty dollars in his pocket. Being compelled to wait until evening to get his time check from Mr. Sheldon, which was for $51.75 additional, Carter concluded to see the town. Picking up acquaintances with Mike and John Bulger, a couple of honest looking young Irish men, and railroaders, he invited them out to drink and continued to drink with them all day, spending his money with the lavishness of a millionaire, and finally in his drunkenness, throwing it about with a recklessness that soon left him penniless.

At Cassidy's saloon Mike Bulger took $55 from the counter which he counted before the barkeeper and placed in his pocket. Later he gave it to his brother John to keep, and later still, Carter was picked up dead drunk on the railroad by Officer James Gossage.

Yesterday on the strength of Carter's sober statements in the police court, the officers went in search of the companions of his previous day's carousal. They were found in bed at the Atlantic House John acknowledged having the money and turned over to Officer Barnett $45, which he claimed was all he had. Some $62 was found on the persons of the Bulgers, but they claimed it all belonged to them except the $45. The evidence showed that Mike Bulger yesterday morning purchased a new pair of shoes, for which he was unable to account, and this fact, taken in connection with the testimony of Mr. Cassidy's barkeeper to the account of the $55 in the saloon, caused the conviction of the men for petit larceny and a fine of $10 and costs each. In default they went to jail, but their boss gave notice that he would appeal the case to the criminal court, and give bond to-day.

Says He Was Robbed.

The Sedalia express which got in this morning at 7:30 had aboard as a passenger James Anderson, who embarked at Jefferson City, and says he was bound for Texas, where his daughter lives. James is an oldish man, of not very neat appearance, whose narrative to a BAZOO, being concentrated, is about of the size, that he originally came from Pennsylvania, where he was farming, to the neighborhood of St. Louis, at which place he gardened and where also he lost his wife, about a month ago. He came west as far as Jefferson City and here went down the Eldon road a short distance to a friend's house.

Last night about 12 o'clock he started on the train for Sedalia, taking a chair car, he says, and had about $50 in paper money wrapped up in a tobacco pouch, and stowed away in his left pants' pocket. On the way he slept, and when he left the train this morning at Sedalia, he felt for his money and found it gone.

He suspects no one, of course, but he says he feels very much discouraged and in need of assistance, being in the midst of strangers and far from those from whom he might secure such aid. Anderson's story was told to several this morning, and some of his hearers were uncharitable enough to scoff at its truth.

Lost and Found.

Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Ambeous, their two daughters and son, of Michigan, on their way to California, have had an amusing adventure, which began yesterday afternoon rather dolefully, and ended this morning in the pleasantest kind of way. They came in yesterday afternoon on the train from the north, and when they reached Sedalia, the ladies were told to remain in the car, which was to be switched to another track. Mr. Ambeous at the time was in another coach. The ladies did as they were bid, but presently to them came a brakeman, who told them to change cars. They, of course, gathered up wraps and bundles and their other traveling paraphernalia and deserted the coach. The father of the family in the meantime unwittingly went on up the main line, but presently discovered his family was lost.

He got off at Warrensburg and during last night boarded a freight and reached Sedalia this morning in time to join his family at breakfast at the Pacific house, where they had gone when they found themselves left. The re-united Ambeous left on the south-bound Texas express at 8:25 this morning, and will spend a few days with friends at Fort Scott before resuming their journey to the Golden State.

A Well Deserved Blow.

A couple of tough-looking fellows last evening about 6 o'clock got into a little controversy, near the court-house, with a couple of gentlemen, and were very properly discomfited. Messrs. Steele and Galbreath, the attorneys, were on their way south on Ohio street, at the hour mentioned, when two rough fellows, evidently under the influence of liquor, followed them so closely as to nearly tread on the heels of the lawyers. To avoid the fellows and permit them to pass, the gentlemen drew off to one side of the walk, in the action, accidentally jostling one of the toughs. These fellows resented it and used some very bad language. Messrs. Steele and Galbreath, seeing the condition of the men, walked on, and had got to the walk in front of the south entrance to the court house when the most abusive of the toughs accosted Mr. Steele with some insulting remark. The attorney promptly knocked him into the street, and the other fellow running up to join in the difficulty, was headed off by Mr. Galbreath and warned to let things alone.

The lawyers then proceeded on their way, unmolested. The men loafed around the vicinity for some time, but finally disappeared. One of them was afterward arrested by officer Shobe and was up in the police court this morning for disturbing the peace.

Senator Vest's Troublesome Mouth.

Senator Vest's mouth has been getting him into trouble again by reason of its notorious looseness with regard to facts, and he is obliged to confess that certain things said to him by the President were materially exaggerated in his repetition of them to a party of convivial politicians. It would be money in his pockets if he could find a close fitting and easily-controllable rubber substitute for the erratic vocal agency which so often exposes him to reproach and humiliation.
